Wynn's Corner

Spring has Sprung!!!!

Hurray for Spring! With the change in seasons also comes the natural change of life. Our earth is waking up with flowers blooming and bees buzzing. As the season changes please

Be mindful of

- Seasonal allergies
- Common cold
- Creepy crawling biting critters!

Parents remember to replace your child's winter clothes with spring wear (short sleeves and light wear pants or shorts) Finally, the weather is getting better and our children will be spending more time outside on the playground. So for the sake of eliminating some of the preventable illnesses that our babies so easily catch, leave your child a light weight jacket that can be wore outside on some of those upcoming windy days! Also, some of our activities are messy, so please check your child's cubby weekly and bring extra clothes, socks and underwear for those messy play times.

Week of the Young April 6-12, 2014

The Early Years of childhood are the Learnings Years! The first 5 years of your child's life is the most essential time for your child's learning. The day to day role that your child's teacher plays is very important and necessary. Without the dedication and commitment of early childcare teachers many children would not be equited with the learning tools that they need.to continue on into the primary years school. The week of the young was created to Honor early childhood teachers who are at the heart of quality early learning.

Join in with KRK #51 as we celebrate with NAEYC's in applauding and appreciating all of our wonderful educational staff for doing all that they do for our children!!!

WELCOME!

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.
